

We need one set of rules for simplification purposes. Having different rules for different states will create mass confusion.